172

Whitehall, April 30, 1798.

My Lord,

Several Aliens many of whom are not even provided with Licences from me, to that effect, being now reſident in the neighbourhood of the Sea Coaſt of the County of Suffolk; I have judged it neceſſary that Directions ſhould be given to them all to quit that Situation as ſoon as poſſible (and not later than the fifteenth of May) and to retire within the Limits preſcribed by his Majeſty's Order in Council, of the fourth of February, 1793. And I have to deſire that your Lordſhip will direct all the Magiſtrates within the County of Suffolk, to notify to all Perſons of that deſcription within their reſpective Juriſdictions, my determination to enforce this Regulation in its full extent, and without any exception whatever.

As this is a Meaſure of Precaution only, which would certainly not be adopted if the Circumſtances of the moment did not render it abſolutely neceſſary, I am anxious that this point ſhould be explained to the Perſons who will be removed, and that they may be treated with Attention, and with as much Delicacy as is conſiſtent with the complete execution of this Order.

I am,

My Lord,

Your Lordſhip's

moſt obedient, humble Servant,

Portland.

The Lord Lieutenant of the County of SUFFOLK.

Duke of Portland
& Henry Cotterell
Esqrs

Eleanor Darcy Esqr

Oxford

171

Westerfield, May 4, 1798.

Sir,

In obedience to the Commands of the Right Honorable The Earl of EUSTON, his Majesty's Lord Lieutenant of the County of SUFFOLK; I transmit to you a Copy of a Letter from his Grace The Duke of PORTLAND to his Lordship, and likewise a Copy of the Order of Council, referred to, in his Grace's Letter.

I am, Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

HENRY COLLETT.

Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant.

BRITISH MUSEUM